Control Hierarchy

The control hierarchy is a list of control measures, in priority order, that can be used to eliminate or minimize exposure to hazards. Below is the control hierarchy with general examples of each control measure:

- Eliminate
Avoid the risk by removing the hazard completely.
- Substitute
Use less hazardous procedure/substances equipment/process.
- Isolate
Separate the process from people by the use of barriers/enclosures or distance.
- Engineering Controls
Mechanical/physical changes to equipment/materials/process.
- Administrative Controls
Change procedures to reduce exposure to a hazard
- Personal Protective Equipment
Supply where required

Definitions

Control Hierarchy – A series of control options ranked towards greatest and most efficient management of the hazard.

Hazard – Something with the potential to cause injury or illness.

Risk – The probability of a hazard resulting in an injury or disease, together with the seriousness of the injury or disease.
